Learning outcomes

PLO3: Relationship Management

In this course, students develop intermediate proficiency in the foreign language and begin to learn how to independently navigate the foreign culture, facilitating international business among culturally diverse stakeholders.

Learning Line: Global mindset and professional development

CLO1: At the B1.1 (lower intermediate) CEFR level, students can understand the main points of conversations and texts on familiar topics such as work, school, and leisure. They can express opinions, describe experiences, and handle most situations that may arise while traveling. They begin to produce more connected speech and write short texts with some detail and coherence.

PLO4: Self-Management

In this course, students develop intermediate proficiency in the foreign language and continuously deepen their understanding of the foreign culture to navigate complex international contexts and enhance their professional self-management.

Learning Line: Global mindset and professional development

CLO1: Students critically reflect on how language and cultural skills support their self-management and professional growth.

Content

Learning a foreign language helps students become business professionals with a global mindset, as it will allow them to connect with people from another culture. By speaking another language and understanding another culture, they can break down the barriers of communication, putting themselves at a huge advantage as a business professional, next to experiencing a new world view and discovering new concepts.
