

Course: Personal Contextual Development

credits: 5

Course code BVVH26URPCD
Name Personal Contextual Development
Study year 2026-2027
ECTS credits 5
Language English
Coordinator D.A.A. Krol

Modes of delivery Assignment
Individual supervision
Assessments PCD assignment - Assignment

Learning outcomes

PCD_1) The student can analyse and critically evaluate their own actions and achieved results in relation to the initial plan and the Urban Regeneration context, and substantiate their own learning and development process based on this.

Content

Personal Contextual Development

In this course, you have the freedom to shape your own learning path. You can choose to conduct an individual research project, take a course, or for instance participate in a short, intensive international programme, provided it connects to the context of Urban Regeneration.

At the start, you define your approach in a personal plan. After completing the course, you reflect critically on your approach, development, and results in relation to this plan, gaining clear insight into your progress and growth.

Included in programme(s)

Built Environment Exchange Urban Regeneration (autumn)
Built Environment
Minor Urban Regeneration

School(s)

Arts, Design & Built Environment