Learning outcomes

Artistic

You are able to give meaning to creative processes and performing arts productions under the guidance of teachers/practitioners.

Technical

You apply basic instrumental skills and knowledge within the context of the course, under the guidance of teachers/practitioners.

Inquisitive and reflective

You question and reflect on professional practice.

Environmentally focused

You demonstrate an understanding of what it means to act in a professional, enterprising and collaborative manner, and apply this in straightforward situations with guidance.

Content

Integration domain: in this domain, students are introduced to their future professional field. Students gain practical experience through stage-based work placements and cross-domain projects at a level appropriate to the stage of their studies.

Performing Knowledge/IWP

Within this component of the domain, the theory and history of musical theatre are put into practice. The emphasis here is on establishing links between Education, Research and the Professional Field; Innovation Workshop (IWP). In Performing Knowledge, students integrate theory with practice through research, bringing this together into an innovative whole, including within an international context.

Projects

ArtCore: Within the ArtCore Project, students work with their coach to create a presentation or Performing Arts project based on a theme, in order to gain experience in entrepreneurship and creation.

Project "I": Project "I" takes place early in Year 9Ba and has an exploratory and collaborative objective.

Project DIZO (Dance, Inspiration, Singing & Entrepreneurship): Project DIZO is a final exam component. It comprises a dance, singing and acting programme produced entirely by the exam candidates.

Integration Project: In the Integration Project, a theatre production is staged under the guidance of various choreographers and directors, integrating different disciplines into a coherent whole.

Theatre Work Placements

Theatre Work Placements offer opportunities for performing artists to gain stage and professional experience, partly independently and partly under supervision.

Repertoire

In the Repertoire module, students learn and rehearse pieces from LMIPA's repertoire or from the performing arts sector.
