6.5 Students respond to changing situations and circumstances and contribute to solving complex context-specific problems and issues.

Content

The second year of the master program is dedicated to deepening the development of your professional practice. In the third semester you can choose to fill in the Artistic Development course at another institute (see the TER), or you can follow the regular program at the PCC.

This third semester you will either continue your first-year project(s) or you will embark on a new project, directly connected to your professional practice. In both cases, you will work independently and there will be no seminars. In support, there are group meetings with peers and coaches in which participants bring in relevant topics and questions concerning the entrepreneurial aspects of their professional practice. The outcomes of the course are collected in your portfolio.
