Finance, Tax and Advice

Profile of the programme

The activities of graduates of Finance, Tax and Advice are focussed in identifying and analysing financial risks undertaken by both commercial and private clients. They have the ability to translate client data into high-quality financial services. To this end, they have developed effective skills in analysing, problem solving and communication as well as competencies relevant to banking, insurance and tax advice. Graduates work to high professional standards and act in a manner stipulated by the professional code. As service providers, graduates work from the basic assumption that return, risk and customer relations need to be constantly weighed against each other. They have developed practical and integrated knowledge and skills which are appropriate to be a successful financial or tax adviser.

Learning outcomes

The graduate is able to demonstrate that s/he:

- can provide comprehensive financial, fiscal and legal advice to individual clients in a multidisciplinary context and in a socially responsible manner in compliance with legal requirements;
- can provide (effective) advice to business clients (entrepreneurs) on starting and/or reorganising a business, both independently and as part of a team;
- can effectively manage and maintain an existing client network and an existing client portfolio within an organisation, and undertake acquisition;
- can conduct a risk analysis for individual clients, business clients and his own organisation in an international context;
- can prepare tax returns for individual and business clients, and can inform/advise clients on their fiscal position based on this tax return (and their annual accounts);
- can take a flexible approach within an intercultural financial/economic context. S/he can recognise and acknowledge different ways of thinking and/or worldviews (in an international context);
- has the research skills required of a financial professional and independently substantiates her/his decisions/solutions from an objective and cross-departmental perspective;
- is IT literate/has IT skills in a broad financial/economic context;
- takes personal leadership and a professional critical attitude when working within the work situation in a financial context, taking into account different interests. S/he acts in accordance with professional codes of conduct, as well as with ethical, social and sustainable standards and values;
- can take an enterprising approach within a financial/economic context, based on specific skills and knowledge;
- can collaborate in a multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary financial/economic context, with a view to improving the quality of the final result;
- can communicate, both verbally and in writing, in Dutch (F4) and English (B2) within a financial/economic context. The communication relates to advice and professional opinion forming.
