Inhoud

After the completion of the course Financial Management (SDS) the student can define the financial consequences of his/her business advice and asses its feasibility. The financial consequences of the business advise are quantified and the necessary financial statements and overviews shall be drawn up. Students get a case assigned or work, after acceptance, on a case of the student. The student can make use of consultation hours with the lecturer and, if necessary, can collect additional information via open sources and via the various courses on Blackboard. The students will hand in an individual report.
